ITALIAN F.4 CHAMPIONSHIP POWERED BY ABARTH

Jenzer Motorsport confirms its drivers

The Italian F.4 Championship Powered by Abarth is more and more International, with the Swiss team Jenzer Motorsport confirming its participation, with three drivers. Two are Swiss, one Argentinian.

Rome, 22/04/2015 – Already present in the Italian F.4 Championship Powered by Abarth last year, Jenzer Motorsport confirms its important participation to the F.4 Italian Championship with a full grid of three drivers.

Nico Rindlisbacher, born in 1996 in Zurich, has already raced last year in the F.4 Championship, obtaining points in four races. Previously, he has raced in karting, particularly in the Rotax Euro Challenge.

Lucas Ayrton Mauron, Swiss as his teammate, year 1998, has obtained the tenth final position in the Italian F.4 Championship last year. He comes from karting, where, until two years ago, he has raced in the Rotax Max Junior, winning the 2013 Championship, and in the KF3 Swiss Championship, reaching fourth place in 2012 and third place in 2013.

The Argentinian Marcos Siebert, born in 1996, debuts in kart in 2004 and races in various categories, among which the Prokart Argentinian Championship. In 2013, he has participated to the Eurocup Formula Renault 2.0.
